

Tubiflex SpA's 3 Steps

Technology

Tubiflex, a remarkable example of ownership stability, is the undiscussed Italian leader in the field of “fluid transfer in stainless steel”

Tubiflex places to its aerospace Customer's advantage its team of qualified specialists coming from different industrial sectors, able to draw solutions from an extremely wide area of personal and corporate experiences.

Tubiflex, for finalising the activity of its skilled personnel, can trust on the reliability of an extremely flexible and diversified production realising ever since top level products for the most demanding markets.

Advantages/benefits

Tubiflex is able to give quick answers extremely relevant to the point, in the form of advanced preliminary design, matching the Customers' most demanding expectations.

Value Proposition

Different experiences and training of the staff, capability of integrating proprietary processes and products with will and aptitude in developing tailor made products responding to market needs, practice in transversally applying winning solutions from sector to sector, grant an undeniable advantage gap towards our Competitors.